SAMUEL R. GARDNER,
City Auditor.

Ald. Hoyt, for the committee on streets, reported favorably on the petition of B. F. Lombard for a relay of sidewalk, but recommended that the work be done under the direction of the street commissioner. He also reported favorably on the petition of J. M. Jarvis for an asphalt sidewalk on Highland street. He also recommended that a couple of catch basins be placed on the new Lincoln avenue extension to drain water in Mendum's field, the traps not to be put in until needed. On the advice of the mayor it was voted to lay this recommendation on the table. As for the Blossom street trouble the committee find that it is a public thoroughfare and has been accepted by the city as a street. They find that an obstruction has been placed at the upper end of the street and the committee recommend that the city solicitor be instructed to order the parties to remove said obstruction inside of thirty days.

On motion of Ald. Bates the report was accepted and the recommendations adopted.

Ald. Yeaton, for the committee on laying out and widening streets, reported favorably on all petitions referred to his committee and recommended that Mr Jackson be paid $26 for the sewer constructed by him on Jackson Hill street. He also reported favorably on the two sewers, one on Hanover street and one on Fleet street, that the former board of aldermen referred to the present board, and recommended that they be built.

On motion of Ald. Brown the report was accepted and adopted.

The city clerk then read the following letter, which explains itself, and the resolution following it:

To the Honorable Mayor and Aldermen and Council of the City of Portsmouth:

Gentlemen—We, the executors of the wills of Charlotte M. Haven and Eliza A. Haven, in accordance with the terms of said wills, hereby offer to the city of Portsmouth the lands devised in said wills for the use of the city for a public park subject to the conditions, restrictions and reservations in said wills expressed pertaining to said devises.

Said lands above referred to are bounded as follows: Northerly by Pleasant street, easterly by land of Eliza A. Haven and by land of the heirs of the late Albert R. Hatch, southerly by the South mill pond and westerly by land owned by Eliza A Haven and by the heirs of the late Edward Parry; also a parcel of land bounded by the above lot, southerly by land of the heirs of the late Albert R Hatch, easterly by Livermore street and northerly by Pleasant street.

The barns and fences on said lots have been sold to be moved, but the fences can remain as long as needed by the city.

WILLIAM H. ROLLINS,
CHARLES F. SHILLABER, } Executors.
JOHN S. RAND,

Joint Resolution in relation to Haven Park.

Be it resolved by the City Councils of the City of Portsmouth, as follows:

That the city of Portsmouth hereby accept the lands devised to it by Eliza A. Haven, as appears by paragraph five of the will, now on file in the probate records for the county of Rockingham, and the lands devised to it by Charlotte M. Haven, as appears by paragraph fourteen of the said Charlotte's will now on file in the probate records of said county; and said lands are accepted by said city subject to all the conditions, restrictions and reservations in said will expressed, pertaining to said devises.

And said city also accepts the legacy of two thousand dollars in the will of said Eliza A. Haven made to said city for the purpose of expending as much of the same as may be necessary in putting in order the grounds of said lands, in laying out walks and avenues, in fencing the park and in planting forest trees, shrubs and evergreens.

Said lands above referred to are bounded as follows: Northerly by Pleasant street; easterly by land of Eliza A. Haven and by land of the heirs of the late Albert R. Hatch; southerly by the South mill pond and westerly by land owned by Eliza A Haven and by the heirs of the late Edward Parry Also a parcel of land bounded westerly by the above lot; southerly by land of the heirs of the late Albert R. Hatch; easterly by Livermore street, and northerly by Pleasant street.

Ald. Bates moved the gift be accepted and the resolution adopted under suspension of the rules.

On motion of Ald. Gray the resolution passed its first reading

On motion of Alderman Yeaton the rules were suspended and it passed its second and third readings.

On motion of Ald. Gray the resolution passed to be engrossed.

Ald. Brown wanted to hear the solicitor's report in regard to Cutt's road. That gentleman was present and said he had looked the matter over carefully and by a drawing explained just what the petitioners wanted. It was no more than the dividing up of an unused road, near Judge Samuel W. Emery's house, so that the abutters could get their proportionate share. He recommended that the petition be granted.

On motion of Ald. Brown the report was accepted and the solicitor was authorized to draw up the necessary papers to settle the matter.

Ald. Hoyt said that Mr. Jones had withdrawn his petition to lay water pipes to the Wentworth house and consequently his committee had nothing to report.

Ald. Brown moved that the board proceed to elect a water commissioner as Mr. Frank J. Philbrick's term expires this month. The same alderman moved that Ald. Yeaton cast one ballot for Mr. Philbrick to succeed himself.

Ald. Yeaton moved that the matter be laid on the table. This motion was lost on a yea and nay vote, aldermen Bates, Borthwick and Yeaton voting yea and Aldermen Brown, Hallam and Gray voting nay, the other three aldermen not voting.

Ald. Yeaton then moved that the matter be laid over until the next meeting, which passed the board, Ald Brown and Gray alone voting nay.

On motion of Ald. Bates the board then proceeded to ballot for bath house keeper, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	9
Necessary for a choice
Thomas J. Goodwin had	1
Richard T. Call	2
Charles W. Andrews	6

and was declared elected.

Ald. Bates asked permission to have conductors put on the public library building and thereby prevent the annoyance of the water dripping off the eaves. After a short discussion he was given the authority to go ahead with the work on the motion of Ald. Bates.

Mayor Tilton then appointed the following as trustees of the public library subject to the approval of the board of aldermen: Dr. A. B. Sherburne, Miss Emma Magraw, and Mr. W. C. Walton to finish out the unexpired term of the late John Sise

On motion of Ald. Yeaton the trustees appointed by Mayor Tilton were accepted by the board.

Ald. Hallam said his attention had been called to the condition of things on the corner of Pine street and Woodbury avenue, where the land needed filling in badly and a catch basin should be put in to carry off the surface water. The matter was referred to the committee on streets with power.

Ald Gray also called the attention of the board to a bad culvert on Elwin road and on his motion it was referred to the committee on streets.

Quite a lengthy discussion then arose over the bill of W. I. Trafton for labor on the fire alarm. The statutes were looked up and it was found that Ald. Gray was right in saying that Mr. Trafton should not be paid twice for the work he had done.

On motion of Ald. Bates it was voted to reconsider that part of Mr. Trafton's bill in regard to labor.

On motion of Ald. Gray, the amount of $6.30 for labor was stricken out of city auditor's report.

Adjourned.

NOW A BATTERY

Governor Telegraphs Secretary Alger a New Proposition

The second call for volunteers, issued Wednesday by President McKinley, aroused much interest in New Hampshire. Wednesday afternoon Governor Ramsdell announced what he would like to do in the selection of New Hampshire's new quota, and Thursday morning His Excellency sent the following dispatch to the Secretary of War:

CONCORD, May 26, 1898.

RUSSELL A. ALGER, SECRETARY OF WAR,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Under the second call of the President for volunteers New Hampshire's quota, based on population, will be something like 450 men. Under the first call of the President the State furnished 250 men more than its quota, based on population.

I therefore respectfully request that in making the apportionment among the states under the second call of the president, our quota be fixed at about 200 men, or such number as ought to be called for in view of our responses to the first call.

I would further respectfully suggest that we have a fine battery organization well officered and reasonably drilled numbering about 200 men. A battery is very much needed at Portsmouth, and these men would take easily to heavy artillery service.

I therefore respectfully request that the call to New Hampshire be for a battery of heavy artillery.

There is also in my judgment needed at Portsmouth a naval reserve force of at least 200 men. If our artillery is not wanted may there not be a place for some 200 naval reserves.

GEORGE A. RAMSDELL,
Governor.

FROM CHICKAMAUGA.

Our soldier Boys Receive Their First Allowance of Beef.

A Deserter Shows up in Camp and is Put in Guard House.

CHICKAMAUGA PARK, Ga., May 26.—After being absent for five days, without permission, G. McKeene, 35 years old, said to belong at Plattsburg Northern New York, and a member of the G company, of the first New Hampshire regiment, came into camp at a late hour last night, and was promptly placed under arrest and put in the guard house.

Today the prisoner has been worked picking up rocks, and the chances are that he will be the subject of a court martial and fed on bread and water.

McKeene disappeared on Saturday morning last, after the night in bivouac, and before the famous four-mile march.

The camp went wild at a late hour last night on a fake report that Sampson had blown up the Spanish fleet.

There was even more excitement today, over the receipt of the first allowance of fresh beef, of which the men ate very hearty. Soft bread is expected to shortly take the place of the hardtack.

The advent of the better rations was received with unspeakable joy, and the result is an increase of 100 per cent in the spirits of the boys.

There are only two in the hospital today, Marshall Emery of Company H. Franklin, and Pedra Desauluiers of Company C. Both are sufferers from the bowel trouble and chills, which affected so many of the men during the first few days.

Today has been one of many drills—company and battalion for two hours in the morning, and a regimental drill this afternoon—in preparation for tomorrow's brigade review and drill.

Colonel Daugherty, the brigade commander, accompanied by members of his staff and escorted by Colonel Rolfe and Major Tutherly, made a tour of inspection here this morning, after which he warmly complimented the regiment upon its beautiful camp.

Major Burns and Assistant Surgeons Day and Greeley, with the hospital stewards, began today the work of vaccinating all those in the regiment who had not been vaccinated in the past year The task will be continued for several days. The good work was started in Company E of Concord.

The Rev. Charles O. Day, Brattlebora, and assistant surgeon of the First Vermont, paid their respects this afternoon to Captain Phelan and Surgeons Burns, Day and Greeley, officers of the Emmet Guards of Washington, the Sheridan Guards of St. Louis and the McLellan Rifles of Pittston, Pa. They have just called upon Captain Sullivan, Lieutenants Sullivan and Haggarty of Manchester.

Captain Russell of Lebanon is much improved, and Chaplain Phalen is almost well.

A report that we may lose Major Burns and one of our two assistant surgeons, to the division headquarters hospital, is causing much dissatisfaction in the ranks. although the result may be one first class hospital for the nine regiments of each division.

CLAY PIPES.

The Largest Factory In the World—How It Was Started.

The largest tobacco pipe factory in the world is located in Appomattox county, near Pamplin City. It had been known for many years prior to the war between the states that there existed clay in that county well adapted to the manufacture of tobacco pipes, but the industry was carried on in the most desultory way. Sometimes a negro at odd times would fashion a few rude pipes and sell them in the neighborhood, generally at the country store.

But at the close of the war the whites turned their attention to the clay deposits. It was a necessity, and not a matter of choice.

The war had swept away everything The implements with which the pipes were manufactured were simple and rude, and it must be confessed that the article which they fabricated did not bear the closest possible resemblance to those turned out by the thousand today.

The pipes were sold to local merchants, who shipped them to wholesale dealers in northern cities, who sold them to retailers throughout the country.

And now comes the part of the story that sounds rather romantic, though it is every word true.

Among the retail dealers who purchased a lot of these poor men's pipes was a grocery man in a little town in Ohio. He sold them at from 2 to 5 cents apiece and found them very popular.

Among those who purchased one was a wealthy citizen of the town, who was led to do so by a less wealthy neighbor, who had found them sweet smokers. The capitalist was delighted. He smoked nothing else for some time and finally inquired of the grocery man as to where the pipes were made. The latter could only give the name of the wholesale dealer from whom he had purchased, but from him the gentleman learned that the pipes were made from a clay bank in the county of Appomattox, in Virginia.

The gentleman saw that the pipes were of very rude construction. He saw also that were proper machinery used they could be turned out with great rapidity and that a profit could be made at selling them at a penny apiece. He was growing interested, and finally his mind dwelt so much upon the subject that he came over to Virginia and to the little town of Appomattox. He went at once to the store of the dealer in pipes and was not long in finding that the best were made at a bank about eight miles away, at what is now Pamplin City.

The rest is soon told. The land was purchased for a small sum, buildings erected, the latest machinery installed and soon the kilns were smoking.—Richmond Dispatch.

Tactics of Pursued Deer.

An Oxford county sportsman who is much interested in the habits of wild game reports seeing three deer chased by dogs in the deep snow. It was impossible for them to run fast, and they adopted tactics that were at once novel and practical. They were running single file. The first thing that attracted attention as unusual was the action of the leader, which stopped suddenly, jumped to one side, and let the other two deer run by in the path he had made. Very soon the new leader jumped out and let his followers run ahead as long as the leader could stand it to make the path in the deep snow. This was kept up until they went out of sight, and the sportsman had learned something new.—Kennebec Journal.

CUBANS ARE WAITING

Ready to Co-Operate With the United States Soldiers.

NO FRILLS LIVING OR DRILLING.

Strength of Their Forces as Reported In Washington.

Washington, May 27.—Secretary Alger and General Miles conferred yesterday with two officers from the staff of General Garcia, General Collazo and Lieutenant Colonel Hernandez, who accompanied Lieutenant Rowan of the United States army on his return from Garcia's camp in Cuba. The Cuban officers gave information regarding Garcia's forces and the general equipment of the insurgent army. Colonel Hernandez says that Garcia has his headquarters at the town of Bayamo, which was surrendered by the Spanish forces a few weeks ago after Garcia and his troops had maintained a long siege. General Garcia and his staff, with a body guard of several hundred men, are quartered inside the city. About 3000 infantry and cavalry are quartered in the suburb of South Bayamo. The men are well armed with Remingtons and Mausers captured from the Spaniards. Most of them have machetes, but only the officers carry other small arms. The cavalry have small horses, hardy and reliable. Mules are used for pack purposes.

The commissary and quartermaster's department are unknown in the sense used by army officials here. In lieu of these the companies not fully armed are organized as "predios." The duty of the "predios" is to bring meat, ample supplies being secured from Puerto Principe, and vegetables, which are grown quickly in the woods. The system works perfectly, Colonel Hernandez says, and the troops are kept well fed and in good spirits. There are no dress parades and none of the regularity of daily drill usual in the United States army. The main occupation is making long marches to keep the men hardened.

The arrival of Lieutenant Rowan aroused the greatest enthusiasm throughout the Cuban camp. He was warmly greeted by Garcia and had a long conference with him. Colonel Hernandez says communication is maintained with General Gomez and with points along the coast. From these he has a general idea of the Cuban forces, outside of those with General Garcia at Bayamo. He estimates that there are 12,000 men, all of them well armed, constituting the forces in the eastern division of the island, under General Garcia. These include the 3000 at Bayamo, the others being scattered at various points. General Gomez's immediate command is about 3000 men, with 6000 men scattered at various points. In all there are about 20,000 to 25,000 troops actually in the field.

It is understood that the purpose of the present visit of Garcia's officers is to give the general's assurance to the authorities here of his desire to give every possible co-operation to the American movements. Similar assurances have come from General Gomez. The Cuban officers have made a good impression here, and the authorities were agreeably surprised to find them men of ability and soldierly bearing, speaking English well. They will remain some days longer, and then return to General Garcia's camp.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, May 27.—No substantial progress was made by the senate yesterday towards the disposition of the war revenue measure, although it was under consideration for three hours. Speeches were delivered by Mr. White and Mr. Teller. The former opposed the issue of bonds and strongly advocated the coinage of the silver seigniorage and the tax upon corporations. In his discussion of the last feature Mr. White drew out the fact that an amendment was to be offered to the bill by Mr. Gorman, placing a tax of one-half of 1 percent upon certain large corporations.

SENATOR TELLER.

Mr. Teller did not believe there should be a line drawn between state and national taxation, as the states might render it impossible to conduct a great war. He said the people of the United States were better able now to pay a thousand millions as internal tax than they were to pay $300,000,000 in the civil war. As for himself he would not only tax corporations, but he would also include producing individuals. He would not put a tax upon the poor; he would put it upon the rich. He would tax salaries, as well those of senators as others; but, he said, the taxing power was greatly embarrassed by the decision of the supreme court in the income case. With the greatest respect for that body, he maintained that the court's decision, carried to its logical conclusion, meant simply that the rich could not be taxed. He believed that decision was the most serious blow at the sovereignty of the people since the government was erected. Mr. Teller defended the policy of levying an income tax. He read extracts of speeches delivered more than 25 years ago in the house by Mr. Hale and others who are now members of the senate. He mentioned among others Mr. Cullom.

"I am in favor of an income tax now," retorted Mr. Cullom.

Mr. Teller—Well, I'm glad to hear it.

Before Mr. Teller had concluded his speech the bill was laid aside that the senate might take up the eulogies upon Senator Walthall of Mississippi.

In a long session yesterday the house passed few bills, but the discussion involved a wide range of subjects. After a brush over civil service brought on by a paragraph in the deficiency pension bill providing for some temporary clerks in the war department the house considered a bill to amend the internal revenue laws.

Seymour of the New Yorks was pounded for 11 hits and as many runs in three innings in Cincinnati. Getting did much better. Breitenstein was hit hard, but the Ohioans won, 12 to 6.

One clean drive, two scratches and three very bad errors gave the Philadelphia-Chicago game to the latter, 7 to 1.

GENERAL COURT.

Boston, May 27.—The motion to reconsider the vote by which the senate refused to order to a third reading the bill limiting to 58 hours the time during which women and minors can be employed in mercantile establishments in one week was lost.

The bill to authorize electric light companies to furnish gas caused an interesting debate before it was rejected.

The bill providing for the appointment of probation officers in the superior court was ordered to a third reading, with the understanding that it is to be amended at the next stage.

The bill to prohibit the desecration of the United States or state flag was under consideration when the senate adjourned.

The committee on ways and means reported unanimously in favor of the bill embodying the Torrens system of land transfer.

The house discussed the proposed new street railway law for the greater part of the session yesterday, and adjourned without taking a vote.

WHAT BOSTON EDITORS SAY.

Boston, May 27.—"We must take the bull by the horns," The Post insists; "and this we may hope the council of war has at last determined upon. We cannot drive Spain out of Cuba by sinking her ships in the Chinese sea, but only by decisive victories on the island lying not 100 miles from our own shores."

The Journal resolves a grave doubt thus: "Admiral Cervera's squadron, caught in the Santiago cul-de-sac, is, to all intents and purposes, dead as an aggressive factor in this war."

"We have bottled up the Spanish fleet. Now let us drive down the cork," The Globe advises.

CHOSEN DOWER RIGHTS.

Chicago, May 27.—Mrs. George M. Pullman has renounced the terms of her husband's will and chosen her dower right. The share which will fall to her is conceded to be materially greater than under the provisions of the will. She will secure a one-third life interest in all the Pullman realty and one-third of the personal property absolutely. By the latter alone it is estimated she will receive more than $3,000,000.

TOYS OF THE POOR.

An Easy and Cheap Way by Which You May Be Amused.

I am going to show you an innocent pleasure. There are so few amusements that are not criminal or sinful!

When you leave the house in the morning with the fixed intention of loafing in the streets, fill your pockets with cheap toys—a jumping jack, a monkey on a stick, the athletic skeleton, a blacksmith hammering, a cat beating a drum, a horse whose tail is a whistle—and give them to the children playing in the gutter or watching a procession or a hand organ or tending a baby Their eyes will start out of their heads At first they will not dare to take them, they will be suspicious; then their hands will grab the gift, and they will run away like unto cats who wish to eat afar off the piece you gave them, for they have learned to beware of men.

Behind the grated gate of a large garden at the end of which appeared the whiteness of a country house splendid in the sun, a handsome child was standing, dressed with coquettish simplicity

Luxury, freedom from care, the habitual sight of wealth, give such beauty to these children that you would believe them to be made of other dough than that which forms the children of moderate circumstances or poverty

By his side on the grass was a costly plaything as spick and span as its owner, varnished, gilded, clothed in a purple robe, covered with plumes and glass beads. But the child paid no attention to his favorite plaything This is what he was looking at:

On the other side of the gate in the road among thistles and nettles there was another child, dirty, pitiful, face smooched with soot, a pariah brat. An impartial eye would discover his beauty if, as the eye of a connoisseur divines an ideal picture under a coating of coach varnish, he should clean it of the disgusting oxidation of extreme poverty.

Though the symbolical barrier separating two worlds, the open road and the country house, the poor child showed to the rich child his own plaything, which the latter examined greedily as a rare and unknown thing. Now, this toy, which the dirty urchin teased, shook about and poked at in a wired box, was a live rat. The parents, through economy no doubt, had taken this plaything from life itself.

And the two children laughed in brotherly fashion, and their teeth were of an equal whiteness.—Boston Journal.

A Bill of Lading.

A bill of lading for slaves is a curiosity in its way. The following extract is from one dated Feb. 1, 1766: "Shipped, by the Grace of God, in good order and well conditioned, by James ——, in and upon the good ship called the Mary Borough, whereof is master, under God, for his present voyage, Captain David Morton, and now riding at anchor at the Barr of Senegal, and by God's grace bound for Georgey, in South Carolina, to say, twenty-four prime slaves, six prime women slaves," etc. It ends with the pious wish that "God send the good ship to her desired port in safety Amen"

However impious it may appear to us to associate the name of God with the iniquitous traffic, still it was looked upon by many as a divine institution, directly sanctioned by the Bible The famous slave trading captain John Newton, afterward to be the Rev. John Newton of Olney, hymn writer and friend of Cowper, did by no means see it to be his duty to change his profession immediately after his conversion, though he ultimately became an abolitionist. He carried on slave trading for years after he was a devout Christian, giving thanks in the Liverpool churches for the success of his last venture and imploring God's blessing on his next.—Chambers' Journal.

In the Zoo.

"Come on," said the first flea as he hopped from the brown bear's left fore leg. "Come over and join me at a short game of golf"

"Golf!" exclaimed the second flea, hastily taking a bite at the hyena. "Where in the realm of the skies are we to play golf?"

"Why," said the first flea, "over on the lynx of course."—London Answers.

COVERED WITH GLORY.

Boston, May 27.—Two firemen and a policemen covered themselves with glory at a tenement house fire by rescuing two women and a baby from the flames. The firemen and the police went up to the roof of an adjoining house and, jumping down on the roof of the burning building, took the women and the baby out of the upper story windows.

TORPEDOES AFLOAT.

Wrenched From Fastenings by Reckless Seamen.

SEVERAL IN THE PATH OF VESSELS

Harbor Rules Disregarded and Defenses Disturbed.

Washington, May 27.—Reports continue to be received at the war department showing an utter disregard by vessel owners and masters of the regulations which govern the entry and departure of craft to and from mined harbors between the hours when this is forbidden. In three or four instances the vessels have dragged the cables which connected the submarine mines and torpedoes with the shore batteries, resulting in a disarrangement of them. Repairs are made promptly, though at great inconvenience to the engineer officers.

The result of one vessel's incursion recently was to set adrift along the Atlantic coast south of New York a number of torpedoes, each of which contained probably 100 pounds of dynamite. Vessels were sent out to look for them, but thus far only one has been picked up. The main danger to be apprehended from them is in their coming into contact with the propeller of a vessel, which might explode the dynamite.

Complaints have been made to the officials here regarding the mines along the various parts of the coast because they interfere with commerce. "People do not seem to realize that we are in the midst of a war," said one of the officials speaking about the matter, "although we are disposed to do everything in our power to ameliorate the exactions imposed by such a state of affairs."

Complaints have been received also from the owners of excursion resorts at several places that the placing of mines in the harbors and rivers will interfere seriously with their business during the coming season It is not probable, however, that any modification of existing conditions can be brought about in this respect, as the placing of mines and torpedoes is essentially a feature of a city's defense.

REGISTERING FOREIGN SHIPS.

Washington, May 27.—The senate committee on commerce, after considering the subject of granting American registry to foreign built ships for the purpose of securing their services in carrying troops and supplies to the Philippine islands, decided to place the matter in the hands of a sub-committee with authority to report in all cases in which the war department may request that registry be granted. The discussion in the committee revealed the fact that there are several foreign ships whose services can be made available when considered desirable. It was the general understanding that in cases in which the department may express a desire to secure the services of any particular vessel there should be no opposition. It is understood that the arrangement will aid the department materially in securing reasonable rates.

KILLED BY DESPERADOES.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 27.—Under Sheriff Vigil, Deputy Sheriff Bustamente and an Indian trailer were killed by two desperadoes who held up a Santa Fe passenger train last Tuesday. The officers with a number of Pueblo Indians had surrounded the camp of the robbers on Alamosa creek, 65 miles west of Belen. When ordered to surrender the robbers opened fire with rifles with deadly effect. One of the robbers is thought to have been wounded in the thigh, but both escaped, leaving their horses. When the news reached Santa Rita another large posse started in pursuit.

Persistent Coughs

A cough which seems to hang on in spite of all the remedies which you have applied certainly needs energetic and sensible treatment. For twenty-five years that standard preparation of cod-liver oil, has proved its effectiveness in curing the trying affections of the throat and lungs, and this is the reason why: the cod-liver oil, partially digested, strengthens and vitalizes the whole system; the hypophosphites act as a tonic to the mind and nerves, and the glycerine soothes and heals the irritation. Can you think of any combination so effective as this?

Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion. See that the man and fish are on the wrapper.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

Cleveland, O., May 27.—A new method of levying assessments was adopted yesterday by the supreme chapter of the Royal Arcanum. It provides for an emergency fund of about $500,000 a year and does away with the cutting down of certificates in amount year by year after the holders reach the age of 60 years. Each of the 196,000 members will also pay a yearly assessment of 80 cents to meet the running expenses. It was voted not to legislate in any manner against applicants for membership who are likely to see service in the war with Spain

The present officers were re-elected with a few exceptions. Henry Goodwin of Boston declined re-election as grand chaplain, and E. A. Dew of Wisconsin was chosen for the office.

KILLED HIMSELF.

New York, May 27.—Joseph Heworka, a cigarmaker, shot and killed himself in Brooklyn after having shot his wife twice in the face. She will probably die. Heworka had been sick for some time and had earned very little. He was despondent and frequently threatened to kill his wife and himself. Mrs. Heworka feared so for her life that she got a summons for Heworka's appearance in court.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Robert Tarr, 7 years, was drowned in Rockland, Me.

Including yesterday's arrivals, there are now 42,000 men encamped at Chickamauga park. The various commands are beginning military life in earnest.

The easterly storm and dense fog which have prevailed along the New England coast for the past few days have been serious hindrances to shipping.

Governor Bradley has announced that unless otherwise instructed by the president, the second of Kentucky's regiments in the second call will consist of colored troops.

Many a husband imagines that his wife is happy, healthy and strong, when she is really enduring in silence almost unbearable tortures. She meets him at the door on his return from work or business with a smile and a kiss. To be sure, she looks a little white and pallid, but she is vivacious and cheerful in his presence, and he does not realize that anything is wrong. If he had but come home during the middle of the day, he would have found, instead of the cheerful wife, a weak, sickly, nervous invalid, with headache, pains in the back, "stitches" in the side, burning and dragging down sensations and utter despondency and melancholy.

In almost every case of this kind the woman is really suffering from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently she does not realize her own condition. If she does, she shrinks from undergoing the "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the medicine needed by women who suffer in this way. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the shattered nerves. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous, despondent invalids into happy, healthy wives and competent mothers. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It makes "examinations" unnecessary. Honest dealers do not suggest substitutes for a little added profit to be realized thereon.

"I had suffered untold misery for years with ovarian trouble, an exhausting drain, constipation, painful periods and other annoying troubles," writes Mrs. Annie James, of No. 27 Seventh Street, Memphis, Shelby Co., Tenn. "Thank God, my health has been fully restored and I can gladly say I am a well woman to-day. I used six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was completely cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and biliousness. They never gripe. All good dealers have them.

UNCERTAIN STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Cervera Bottled or Not Bottled? Is the Question

OFFICERS DECLARE HE BLUNDERED

Safe Egress From Santiago Held to Be Impossible.

CONFERENCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Discussion of the Propriety of a Military Advance at Once.

Washington, May 27.—Supposedly Schley is lying outside Santiago watching the entrance to the harbor to prevent the egress of the Spanish vessels. While there is evidence of a certain kind of that fact, there has been no official confirmation. This is a little remarkable in view of the fact that it is only a day's run for one of Schley's swift torpedo boats from Santiago to a cable port in Hayti. There is also a curious lack of information from the newspaper dispatch boats on this point. It was supposed that the censors might have excised from some of the dispatches of the newspapers any reference to the fleets, but this would apply, according to the statement of the navy department officials here, only to what might relate to the movements and whereabouts of the United States forces, and the censor's rules would not exclude reference to the Spanish squadron.

Notwithstanding the officials profess unshaken confidence in their original belief that the Spanish squadron is securely bottled up in Santiago harbor, there is no concealment by them of an intense desire to secure absolutely trustworthy information on that point. It is not to be doubted that, with the question still open, the beginning of the military operations is retarded, for as long as there exists a possibility of the Spanish naval force being at large, there is an indisposition to start the troop transports for Cuba.

Probably it was this uncertain state of affairs that induced the president to call a consultation between Secretaries Long and Alger, General Miles and the members of the naval war board, Admiral Sicard, Captain Crowinshield and Captain Mahan. As stated by one of the members of the conference, the purpose was to go over the whole system from the Philippines to Cuba and Porto Rico, and decide just how far the plans already laid should be modified to meet existing conditions. This involved a discussion of such points as the propriety of the immediate advance of the military forces upon Cuba; the credibility of the advices so far had touching the location of the Spanish squadron; the policy of expediting the Cuban expedition, or accompanying it with one directed against Poto Rico, and finally the extent of the military assistance to be sent Admiral Dewey at Manila. None of the members of the conference felt authorized to tell what had taken place, but there are thought to be patent indications of a decision to embark military expeditions, whether for Cuba or Porto Rico can only be conjectured, in the course of the next few days.

Naval officers are turning their attention to inquiries whether it is possible for Admiral Cervera to get out of Santiago harbor. They hold that this manoeuvre is impossible, and that being the case, the career of the Spanish admiral is at an end, so far as it constitutes a menace against our ships. The British comment that Admiral Hornby in 1855 escaped with his entire fleet from a harbor under similar conditions, and that Admiral Cervera should be able to make his escape when he gets ready to do so is not accepted.

The naval view here is just to the contrary. It is pointed out that Admiral Hornby escaped from an open bay, while Admiral Cervera must come through a narrow channel about 300 feet wide, on which the American searchlights will play continually. It is stated that this is not mere opinion, but naval manoeuvres were carried on at Key West and Tortugas a few months ago which furnish a positive demonstration that Cervera cannot make an exit without being discovered.

An officer who was on board one of the American ships during the Tortugas movement says a sham night attack of torpedo boats was made upon the big battleships and cruisers. The latter were given no notice of the projected attact, and there was no extra guard such as the American ships now maintain. Every torpedo boat was discovered long before it was within striking distance of the cruisers and battleships. The pilot of one of the attacking boats was so bewildered by searchlights that he nearly ran into a cruiser. The lesson drawn from this attack was that a night sally by an enemy was impossible owing to the methods of discovering an approach. It had shown also that the attacking fleet could not get within range, although they had come within range of the guns on the ships attacked.

It is said that these manoeuvres at Tortugas and Key West practically represent the situation before Santiago. If Cervera sent out his torpedo boats as scouts, they would be detected before they could do damage and destroyed by the small guns of such cruisers as the Montgomery. The American ships would have the advantage of concentrating their entire fire upon one small passage, about 300 feet wide. A night battle is quite unusual in naval annals, but it has occurred. The Constellation fought the Revenge at night, the engagement continuing for six hours in the darkness, during which time the mainmast of the Constellation was carried away and the ship crippled. It is believed that if Admiral Cervera attempts to escape he will choose the night for this movement.

On the other hand naval officials are discussing the means the American commander may adopt to make exit impossible. In the blockade of Charleston, barges full of stones were sunk at the channel entrance, cutting off ingress and egress. A few old hulks would serve the same purpose in this case. There is difficulty in getting such craft, and the sinking of the derelict in the proper point in the channel would be attended with great danger. It must be towed to position, subjecting those in charge to the danger of mines and torpedoes. There are also the guns from Morro castle to be guarded against. It is understood, however, that the castle has no searchlights, so that a night operation of this character could be executed without the Spaniards being made aware of it. Taking everything into account, naval officers feel that Admiral Cervera committed a fatal blunder in being trapped at Santiago, and that there is no fear the trap will prove inadequate to hold him.

In the rush of military preparations the war officials have not been able to give much attention to the preparation of the regulations for the procurement of the additional 75,000 volunteers. It is still uncertain just how far the national authorities will go towards recruiting these forces themselves, nor is it positively known that independent organizations, companies, battalions and regiments raised by individuals will be accepted in blocks, if by so doing the deparment is required to accept the officers with the men. Indeed, it is now questioned whether under the law the department could, if it would, accept the services of officers under such conditions, as the governors of the states appear to be the only persons authorized to issue commissions below the regimental grade. There are other vexatious questions to be settled before the regulations can be promulgated, but fortunately, in the judgment of the department officials, due notice having been given to the people of a desire for more troops by the government, there is no occasion for haste in deciding upon details, in view of the fact that the full draft of men called for under the first call has not been secured. The department officials were engaged yesterday largely in considering the new law providing for the organization of certain independent forces, with the result that the department was able to announce regulations governing the examination of applicants for commissions in the engineer regiments and the organization of the immune regiments.

It is not generally understood throughout the country, said an army official, that soldiers who re-enlisted in the service and recruits who enlisted for the first time may be discharged on their own application at the close of the war. The enlistment is for three years, but there is nothing in the law to prevent soldiers received into the army, while it is being organized to its war strength, from being discharged as soon as the war is over. When the war is over the officials will determine at just what figure the army will be reorganized, and I am sure more men will want to remain than there will be room for. The enlistments in the regular branch are proceeding at the rate of about 1000 every 10 days, so that some time will elapse before the full war strength of 62,000 men is reached.

COLD WATER BATHS.

Chickamauga National Park, May 27.—Yesterday two miles of pipe was laid in Chickamauga park under direction of General Boynton, and several of the commands last night enjoyed the luxury of cold water baths. By tonight the two pipe lines will be completed to the extreme limits of the park, and the problem of adequate water for the volunteer army will have been supplied. The government has authorized General Boynton, president of the Chickamauga park commission, to expend $10,000 if necessary in the erection of a permanent waterworks system at the park.

STEAMERS IMPRESSED.

Madrid, May 27.—It is currently reported that the Spanish government has ordered all the Spanish steamers from 1000 tons up, capable of steaming a minimum of 12 knots, to be impressed as auxiliary cruisers. The Spanish commanders at the various ports, it is added, have been instructed to take charge of such steamers, whether mail boats or others.

TRANSPORTS ARE FEW.

Washington, May 27.—Little progress has been made by the war department officials in securing transports for the Philippine expedition, the only addition obtained being the Ohio, a good-sized vessel, which will rapidly be transformed so as to make her available for carrying a large number of men and animals. Assistant Secretary Meikeljohn is still negotiating with the agents of the Northern Pacific Steamship company for chartering the six vessels of that line. He has given an upset price which the government will pay for the charter of these vessels, and this figure has been cabled by the agents here to the owners of the vessel in London. The company does not seem to be disposed to let the government have its vessels at a material reduction from the rate at which American vessels can be obtained, notwithstanding that the war department will recommend to congress that an American registry be given to the Northern Pacific vessels if they are chartered by the government.

There are now three vessels on the Pacific coast chartered by the government available for the second expedition. Such of them as are not already there will be ordered to San Francisco promptly to be put in shape for the work for which they are intended. It is hoped that this may be done next week, so that another detachment of 2500 men may then be sent to reinforce Admiral Dewey.

COSTING LOTS OF MONEY.

Washington, May 27.—The secretary of war sent to congress an estimate of deficiencies in appropriations for the quartermaster's department for the fiscal year ending June 30 and available until Jan. 1, 1899, amounting to $11,400,000. The items of the estimate are given as follows: Regular supplies, $1,000,000; incidental expenses, $200,000; barracks and quarters, $200,000; horses for cavalry and artillery, $1,000,000; army transportation, $9,000,000. This increases the total amount appropriated and asked for to date on account of war to $312,285,000.

MR. WILLIAMS' REGIMENT.

Boston, May 27.—George Fred Williams has renewed the offer of a regiment of volunteers to the governor in a letter, urging in addition its prior claims to consideration under the second call next to the state militia. He claims for the regiment he has enrolled that, next to the state militia, it was the first to enlist for the war with Spain. Governor Wolcott replied that he had not been informed of the terms of the last call, but when he did learn he would consider the request.

TO EMPLOY THE RETIRED.

Washington, May 27.—The senate committee on military affairs has authorized Senator Sewall to report an original bill providing for the employment of retired army officers on active duty in any service during the existing war except in command of troops. The permission does not extend to officers above the grade of colonel, and the purpose of the bill is to utilize the retired officers in mustering and performing other service in which some 300 or 400 regular officers are now engaged, with the view of permitting the active officers to rejoin their commands in the field.

SOLDIERS' MAIL AND PAY.

Washington, May 27.—Hereafter second and third class mail will be forwarded to soldiers in the same manner as letters. Only first class mail under the general rule can be forwarded when mail as originally addressed does not reach the person to whom it is sent. Hereafter, however, papers and packages will be forwarded from place to place until they reach the soldier.

Officials of the war department conferred with Assistant Postmaster General Heath with a view to having soldiers paid a portion of their salaries by check instead of money orders when they wish to send money home. This would save the cost of the money order fee and facilitate the business of the postoffice department. The postoffice department has under consideration a proposition to prepare a money order office at Manila, Philippine islands, for the convenience of soldiers and sailors who desire to send money home. As the United States has not yet occupied the islands, it was suggested that the money order office may be established at first on board a transport.

BRIGADE OF ENGINEERS.

Washington, May 27.—The brigade of engineers is to be composed of three regiments, to be designated respectively the First, Second and Third regiments of United States engineers. There are to be three battalions in each regiment of four companies each. For each regiment there are to be 53 commissioned officers and 1106 enlisted men.

The officers will be selected for their skill as military, civil, electrical or topographical engineers. An effort will be made to recruit the enlisted men from every branch of the engineering profession and of mechanical skill. Machinists, steam engineers, blacksmiths, carpenters, plumbers, telegraph operators, topographers, draftsmen, photographers, railroad men, riggers, boatmen and those skilled in the use of explosives are especially desired. Volunteer troops will be armed and equipped as infantry. Their uniform will conform to that prescribed for the use of engineer troops of the regular army.

DREADFUL STATE OF THINGS.

New York, May 27.—The Bratsberg, which left Sagua la Grande, Cuba, May 20, arrived here yesterday with a cargo of 8000 bags of sugar and 49 passengers, composed of Cuban refugees, some American citizens, three Chinese and one Frenchman. These passengers are principally from Sagua, although several are from Caibarien and Matanzas.

All were glad to get away from Cuba. Many of them were women and children. They report a dreadful state of things in Cuba, provisions being very scarce and prices beyond the means of the poor people. At Sagua there were only a few unserviceable gunboats and only a few troops to guard the city. In Matanzas there were from 12,000 to 14,000 troops. The insurgents were reported to be gaining in numbers daily. Many of the inhabitants had abandoned the towns and villages and fled to the interior.

In the earlier periods of history the people had no other method of making bread than by roasting corn and beating it in mortars, then wetting it and forming the mass into a coarse cake.

The habits of ants are more like those of man than are the habits of any other of the lower animals.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN.

If Portsmouth People are Not Convinced by Local Testimony They Differ From Other People.

Our readers must have noticed within the past two years how "cures" have multiplied in the newspapers like mushrooms in a meadow, and following the plethora of cures, the general public have turned remarkably skeptical. Facts are demanded, but it has also become essential to know who supplies them, where they are from, in fine, whom they have cured. doubting Thomas will not accept at par, incredible cures of the continent. He wants it at home. "Give us some neighbor, then I will believe" is what he asks for. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills do this. Call it what you like, at home, local, or neighbor's testimony, you can always ascertain the truth of it without leaving the city limits. Here is a case:

Mr. Thomas E Blake, of No. 6 Green street, says: "I hurt my back coasting on a hand sled going over bumpers. As I grew up, I always had weak kidneys, and latterly, they became worse, and a painful annoying urinary trouble developed. The kidney secretions were high colored, and contained a gritty substance like sand or brick dust, and they often were thick and of a milky hue. It could be lifted from the vessel with a splinter after it had remained a short time. Mornings I would be so weak that many a time I would have to slide down the stairs, being too weak and stiff to attempt it on my feet. I could not sleep nights for the aching, and this was often accompanied by dizziness and distress. I have always been trying remedies and first one doctor and then another but nothing got down to causes until I went to the Philbrick Pharmacy and got Doan's Kidney Pills. I have paid at a single time, $8,000 to a single doctor for medicine, but it did me not a cents worth of good. I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pill after my experience. They are a valuable kidney remedy."

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Portsmouth Public library was held on Thursday afternoon, with Mayor Tilton in the chair.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Treasurer, Charles A. Hazlett;

Secretary and Librarian, Robert E. Rich;

Assistant Librarian, Miss Estella Bennett.

Janitor, James Haley.

On motion of Mr. Kimball the mayor was asked to appoint a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of the late John Sise, who was an efficient trustee. Mayor Tilton appointed E. P. Kimball and Rev. Alfred Gooding as the committee.

No further business the meeting adjourned.

AN UNRULY PUPIL.

The residents of the quiet town of Kittery are all worked up over the actions of a certain pupil in the school of district No. 1 on Thursday afternoon.

The trouble all came from the teacher, Miss Mabel Moore, trying to chastise a youngster named Emery for something he had done. The boy, who is sixteen years old and quite strong for his age, threw Miss Moore down and injured her quite badly. He then left the school and hadn't been seen up to late Thursday evening.

A warrant for his arrest has been placed in the hands of Constable Perkins and when found he will have to account for his misconduct. He has always caused more or less trouble and has frequently played truant. He is a son of James Emery, a well-known resident of the town.

Miss Moore was taken to her home, where she is quite ill from the effects of the trouble.

Choir Boys Return Home

The Christ church choir boys arrived home from Concord this morning and report a most enjoyable time. There were some three hundred choir boys who took part in the musical festival in the St. Paul's church in that city last evening and out of the number Portsmouth was the only city to send a full choir. The church was crowded to the doors and the singing of the choir boys thoroughly enjoyed. The Portsmouth party all put up at the Phoenix hotel over night and their comforts were carefully looked after by the rector Rev. C. LeV. Brine who accompanied them.

NOT SETTLED YET

Hearing in the Matter of the Portsmouth and Dover Railway

A continued road hearing in the case of the proposed extension of the Portsmouth and Dover railroad was held in Manchester Thursday at the office of Railroad Commissioner Henry M. Putney. The petitioners for the road have been heard on the ground and the proceedings Thursday morning were largely given up to those opposed to the construction of the new railway. The Portsmouth and Dover is a steam railway ten miles long, the proposed electric extension is twenty-seven miles long. Those opposed to the new road argue that if built it will be a clear case of the tail nagging the dog and the whole thirty-seven miles will soon run by electricity.

No satisfactory conclusion was arrived at Thursday's hearing because neither J. S. H. Frink of Greenland who represents the Portsmouth and Dover, and Page of Portsmouth who represents the petitioners, could be present. General Streeter of Concord, appeared in the former's behalf, but until these gentlemen can be seen and it can be ascertained whether they want another hearing or not it will be impossible to tell whether the hearing is formally closed. The board will however report to the supreme court next month its findings.

None but opponents to the extension was heard Thursday. Stocks of Lowell, who represents the Boar's Head interests, Batchelder of North Hampton, who represents the townspeople there E. B. Philbrick of Rye, who opposes it on behalf of the summer hotel business, and Judge I. W. Smith, who represents the Exeter and Hampton, a rival electric railroad, all spoke against it.

Drift Over the Mines

It is not generally known, but Bath is the only harbor on the New England coast, or in fact along the entire Atlantic sea board, where a tug is not allowed to take a tow over the mines that are used to protect the harbor. The rule is that all tugs shall cast off when they reach the buoys marking the line of mines and allow themselves and their tow to drift over the dangerous objects, A patrol boat is stationed off the harbor to see that these rules are enforced, and no steamer or tug is permitted to turn their screw over in crossing.

This makes it extremely difficult for sailing vessels, for unless they have a fair tide and wind it is impossible for them to get in, but have to anchor and wait a favorable opportunity.

Bound to Moosehead Lake

The Mohawk Fishing club of Haverhill, Mass, consisting of G. F. Emerson, D. T. Dudley, C. W. Arnold, D. T. Kennedy, A. P. Jaques, H. I. Pinkham, C. H. Davis of that city, and P. B. Heintz, Jacob Mosser and Richard Traiser of Boston were passengers on the evening Pullman on Thursday evening, bound to Moosehead lake on a ten days fishing trip.

The members were all attired in a neat blue uniform, with vests of red, and had a natty appearance and attracted much attention at the railroad station during their short stop in this city.

River and Harbor

Tug Piscataqua, Perkins, arrived from Richmond, Me., last evening with a drilling scow in tow. The scow is to be used in some work up river.

Schooner R. F. Pettigrew, Morse, has finished unloading her cargo of coal and will be towed to Bath tomorrow by the tug Piscataqua. The schooner has been chartered to load ice for Baltimore.

It was a wild and rough night on the water last evening and considerable damage was done along the water front by the wind and rain.

The steamer Viking is expected here now in about two weeks and will start in at once on her route between the Shoals and this city.

His mother, fearing that he might have enlisted or gotton into trouble, became alarmed, and accordingly sent the father of the wayward boy to this city today. The family is a well-to-do one. The young man claims that he was asked to leave for a trip with Howe and at the time of departure did not know where he was going. Young Lynn returned to his home tonight with his father.
